About this booklet

Read this first

This is your space, not a form to get right. Fill in only what feels helpful, in any order, over as many sittings as you need. Nothing here is legal or veterinary advice — it's a record of your wishes, so that no one close to you ever has to guess what you would have wanted.

Share it with your vet, and with anyone who might need to act on your behalf. Come back and update it whenever something changes.

What might change this, and how I'll know

You've completed their wishes booklet.

Keep it somewhere safe, and let the people close to you know it exists. You can update it at any time — nothing here is fixed.

When the time comes, this booklet can become the starting point for a memorial page at kindredpaws.com — carrying their story, their photos, and the choices you've already made.
